cell motility: can rho gtpases and microtubules point the way? - microtubules communicate with signalling molecules, particularly rho gtpases, and the actin cytoskeleton to establish cell polarity and promote cell locomotion are the focus of this commentary. we do not discuss localized signalling events - for example, the activation of g-protein-coupled receptors in a chemotactic gradient or transient localized increases in intracellular calcium - that ... bacterial motility reveals unknown molecular organization - bacterial motility reveals unknown molecular organization ... of isolated biological molecules such as chitin or collagen (6). even if the concentration needed to obtain this aniso-tropic phase is generally higher than those found in nature, we expect that environments enriched with those molecules canhaveallcdomainsturalmucuscanalsoshowan lc phase when it is exposed to air for a few ... of motility dissociated cytoplasm - cell - the form of motility produced under these conditions typically consisted of numerous fountains or loops of flowing material. the fountains erupted from the cytoplasmic mass at various points, a fasciclin 2 morphogenetic switch organizes epithelial ... - identifying the cell communication molecules that regulate cluster motility, and how their misregulation leads to aberrant movement, is thus likely to generate insights into the differentiation of invasive carcinomas. drosophilaborder cells (bcs) provide a simple in vivo model for deciphering the mechanisms of cell cluster movement (montell, 2003). bcs are a cluster of six to eight somatic ... molecular motors—self-organization of cytoskeletal network - cell motility, molecular motors, self-organization 1. introduction spontaneous, self-generated movement is a hallmark of almost all biological systems. even cells that are incapable of active movement within their environment perform essential intracellular motility processes. cell motility is a complex and integrated process governed by the dynamics of cytoskeleton filaments and collective ... chemokine receptor ccr7 contributes to intranodal t cell ... - contributes to intranodal t cell motility and functional organization of the intestinal immune system . a thesis submitted for the degree of doctor of natural sciences (drnt.) in the subject ... pro-inflammatory flagellin proteins of prevalent motile ... - these flagellate species contribute "cell motility" category genes to the intestinal microbiome and flagellin proteins to the intestinal proteome. we reviewed and revised the annotation of motility genes in the genomes of six eubacterium and roseburia species that occur in the human intestinal microbiota and examined their respective locus organization by comparative genomics ... shc and fak differentially regulate cell motility and ... - shc and fak differentially regulate cell motility and directionality modulated by pten jianguo gu, masahito tamura, roumen pankov, erik h.j. danen, takahisa takino, kazue matsumoto,
